Temple Beth El Cantor's Message

We will read Parshat Noach in October as we usually do. While it always falls in the Hebrew month of Cheshvan, it has been known to come up early in November (the last time was in 2016 and the next time will be in 2019).

At the end of the Parsha, we come across the story of the Tower of Babel. The people of the Earth were of one language, we are told. This makes sense, since all at that time all were descended from Noah. The people have all settled in one valley. They decide to build a tower that will reach the heavens. God sees it and is unhappy. To thwart their endeavor, God gives them different languages so that they can no longer understand each other, and they all go in their different directions.

On its face, this is a biblical explanation for the multiplicity of languages among the many peoples on Earth. That said, why are we left to wonder why God felt threatened by human unity. Isn't unity good? Don't we hope and pray for it as a part of the messianic era?

An appropriate answer might be: Yes, but. Yes, unity can be a wonderful thing, but not all forms of unity are salutary. Proclaiming unity when joining a rioting mob will not serve as mitigation.

Rather, it comes down to motivation and intent. Is the unity for the sake of heaven and Torah, which is to say, for a worthy and noble purpose, or is it for self-service, self-aggrandizement and other less-than-savory purposes?

Why did the people in the valley of Shinar want to build the tower? According to a midrash in the Brayshit Rabbah, the people said, "Come, let us make a tower, place an image on its top, and put a sword in its hand, and it will seem as if it is waging war against Him." The rabbis understood their motive as being (at best) disrespectful to God and a bold statement of arrogance.

We shall, in the days and weeks to come, be asked to assemble and organize for a variety of causes and events. The majority are good causes worthy of our time and effort. May we be given the ability to distinguish these from those that are not. May we enjoy the blessings of unity guided by true intent.

Temple Beth El President's Message

I would like to share this from the Accidental Talmudist:

A lovely little boy was holding two apples with both hands. His mother came in and softly asked her little boy with a smile:

My Sweetie, could you give your mom one of your two apples?

The boy looked up at his mom for some seconds, then he suddenly took a quick bite on one apple, and then quickly on the other.

The mom tried hard not to reveal her disappointment.

Then the little boy handed one of his bitten apples to his mom and said: Mommy, here you are. This is the sweeter one.

No matter who you are, how experienced you are, and how knowledgeable you think you are, always delay judgment. Give others the privilege to explain themselves.

What you see may not be the reality.

Never conclude for others.

As we start this new year, I would like to thank everyone that supported temple this past year whether it was as a volunteer, those that attended services and events or monetarily. As I reached out for advice or assistance, no one declined my plea.

Religious school has begun with Cantor, Ann Nathan and Bozhena and Gleb Samoshuk as our teachers. They are looking forward to a productive year with the four classes.

Thank you to all those that assisted in transforming the JCC auditorium into a warm and welcoming place to greet the new year of 5779. As always the staff members at Temple Beth El and the JCC employees were extremely helpful.

Thank you to all the congregants that participated in our holiday services. To our ushers for keeping the service running as smooth as possible, an appreciative thanks. Todah Rabah to Mundy and the ritual committee for the hours they spent assigning all the honors for the High Holidays.

Please make your reservation for the Shabbat Dinner after services on October 12th.

Mark your calendar and make your reservation for the Men's Club Breakfast and Political Forum on November 4th.

I hope you are writing your story for the 100th anniversary celebration booklet that will be published for our May celebration. Anyone wishing to be on the committee to plan the festivities, please let me know.

Congratulations to Pavel, Natalia, Avigail, Karneliia, Mikhail, Leora and Yonotan Samoshuk on becoming citizens of the United States!

Shalom,
Marsha

Temple Beth El Executive Director's Message

Dear Friends,

How nice to be able to share the High Holy Days with family and friends at the Jewish Community Center. The auditorium looked warm and welcoming. The flowers in memory of Bernice and Martin Smith were bright and beautiful in the fall colors for Rosh Hashanah, and the Yom Kippur flowers in memory of William Kowalsky were pristine white, both added a feeling of celebration and reverence for observing the two holiest days of our year.

Many thanks to all our members who accepted Aliyahs and honors. A special thanks to Elliot Rabin who has joined us for many years to daven many parts of the Rosh Hashanah service. Elliot also shared a touching and heartfelt sermon in memory of his father-in-law and a very long time member of Temple Beth El, Saul Finer.

Cantor Larry Fader again led our services and delivered the sermon in his beautiful voice on these special days.

Lois Silverman shared with us the martyrology beautifully with much feeling, Michael Silverman shared the Kol Nidre message from the heart and touched all in the congregation.

The shofar was beautifully blown by Evgenii Samoshuk and Dr. Alan Harris. The sound of the shofar is very special and was special music to all of us.

I thank Victor Perlman and his staff at the JCC for all their help in making the Center a warm and lovely sanctuary to observe our very holy days. It is always so pleasant to work with the JCC folks. Thanks to Edward Kowalsky for all his help to get everything moved from Temple to the Center.

To our congregation and guests, to all our families and friends, I again wish one and all a good and healthy year. May Temple Beth El, our country and Israel have peaceful and happy days ahead.

Shalom,
Mundy

PS: Temple Beth El is going to celebrate its 100th birthday in the spring. Do you have any special memories of being in the TBE family you would like to share with us?

Temple Emanu-El President's Message

By the time you read this, we have gone through the first day of religious school, our Days of Awe, the first, of what I hope will be many, Temple Emanu-El community break-the-fast, Sukkot, and our third annual Mah Jongg tournament! September was a very busy month at Temple!! Thank you to everyone who participated in our High Holy Day services. We asked and you said "yes!"

Thank you to our new religious school leadership and staff. You worked over the summer months, together with Rabbi Schaktman, to create a rich and meaningful learning experience for our temple youngsters. Building on what has worked well in our religious-school; Benj Widiss, Kristyn Hammond, the Religious School Committee and Rabbi Schaktman have crafted a program that will prepare our young members to be fully able to participate in our ritual practices after their B'nai Mitzvah. I'm excited to see how the program enriches our youngster's Jewish experience and learning.

I love the fact that after a day of fasting and praying together, we broke the fast together instead of going off to separate gatherings. I hope this will be a new tradition at Temple Emanu-El. Thank you to Andi Dinerstein, Joanie Basloe, Leslie Cohen and Rachel Smith for organizing this wonderful gathering! Thank you to everyone who contributed to and attended our amazing break-the-fast!

Thank you to Lynn Tomaino for organizing our 3rd annual Mah Jongg tournament! You and your helpers have created a fun event and fundraiser. I am sure that Hope House was happy to receive a donation from the proceeds of this event.

In early September, our new website "went live" as they say. Our Communications Committee, led by Anne Yoss, worked many hours to update and revamp our website. I know that this was a most frustrating process and a huge thank you goes out to Anne, Rachel Smith, and, in particular, to Rita, who spent much time and mental energy dedicated to this project.

We have begun to hold our Shabbat services at 6:00 PM every Friday. In the search for the perfect time to start this service, we are experimenting with his time slot. We hope that this time will accommodate more of our congregants and result in more of us being able to join together on Shabbat, to celebrate together. I welcome your feedback about this time change.

Calling all teens - and their adults!

Have you heard about the Temple Emanu-El Teen/Adult Book Group?

The Teen/Adult Book group is a program where teens can have fun, spend time with other Jewish teens, and continue being engaged in Jewish learning through exploring stories and books from a Jewish perspective. It is an opportunity for teens and adults to interact as peers, and to share and learn from each other as members of the Jewish community.

All Jewish teens are welcome to participate. Parents, or other adults with whom a teen has a close connection, are invited to participate as well.

The dates for this year's meetings are: Oct. 18, Nov. 29, Jan. 17, Feb. 28, April 4, May 16. These are all Thursdays. Meetings are from 7:30-9, although if you need to leave earlier that is okay..
